

How to register for SASF

Every GeSI-Member has access to SASF. In order to use the tool, users have to register. Due to the fact, that SASF is only available to GeSI members, every registration must be confirmed by the GeSI office.

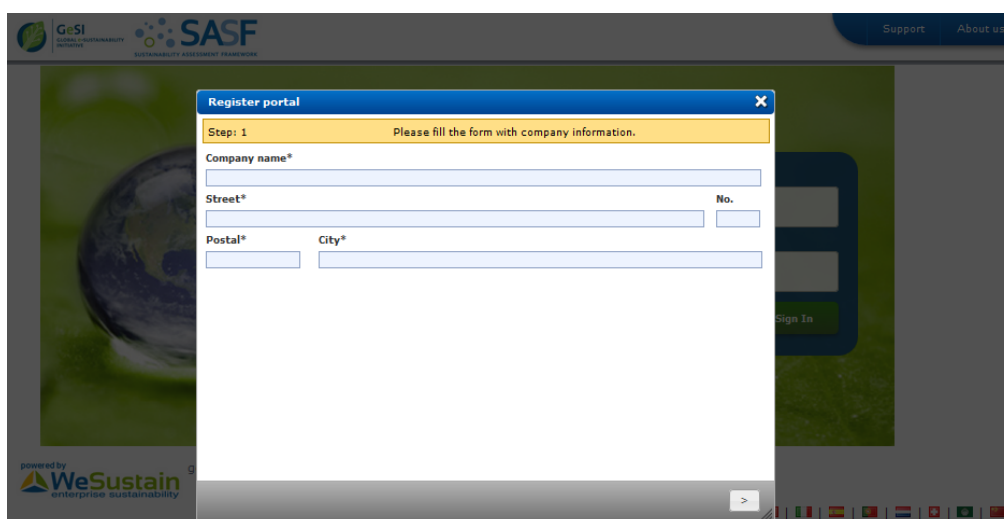

Please follow the following steps to open an account:

Register to the portal

1. Visit <https://sasf.gesi.org/> and press the  button to open the register portal.

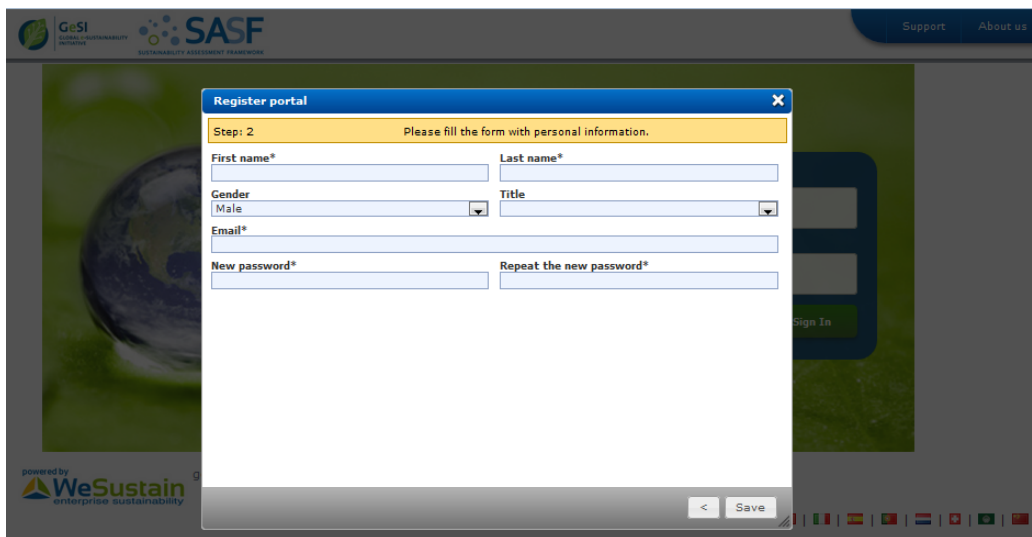

2. Enter company details: company name, address and press the  button.

3. Enter user details: name, email and select a password (info: the password can be changed afterwards in the system).

Press the button to complete the registration.

Register portal

Step: 2 Please fill the form with personal information.

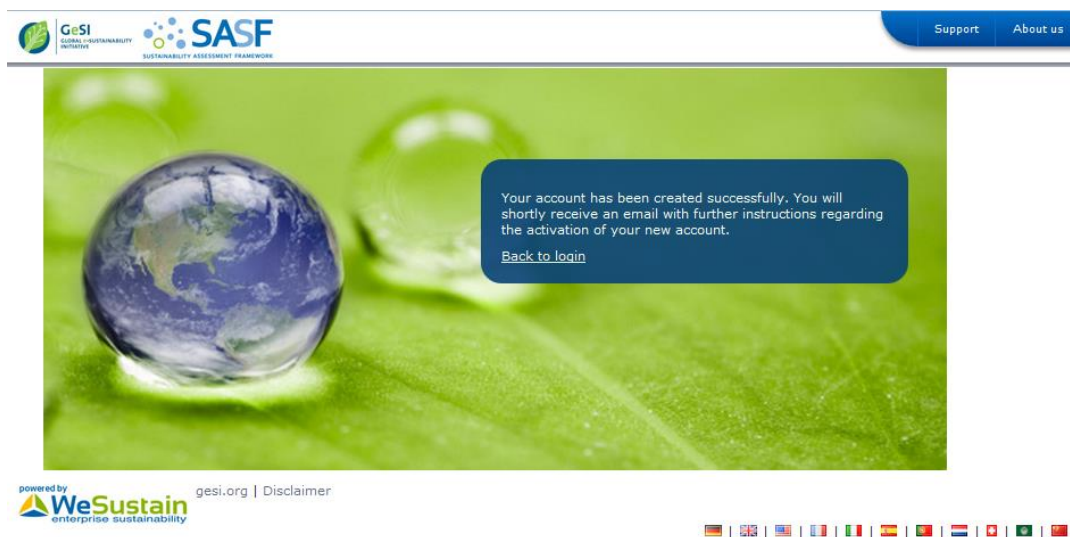

First name* Last name*

Gender Title

Email*

New password* Repeat the new password*

4. The account has been created successfully. An email will shortly be sent with further instructions regarding the activation of the new account.

Please note

Every account has to be approved by the GeSI Office. Please wait for further instructions after your registration.

The first registrant of a company is automatically the first point of contact for colleagues. Accounts with this role can invite other users (Go to: Settings & Users > User Management > Press the  button > enter email address and confirm by pressing the  button)

The first point of contact can be changed subsequently. To do so, please contact the support (press the  button).
